Miscellaneous

Health Career Academy Update

Mr. Larry Eisenberg introduced Ms. Tina Macica, Project Manager, Health Careers Educational Academy, Build—LACCD, who was recruited for her extensive background in building hospitals and medical facilities.

Ms. Macica discussed that the Los Angeles Community College District (LACCD) expects to build the Health Careers Educational Academy on approximately a 60,000-square foot section of county property in East Los Angeles adjacent to the Los Angeles County—University of Southern California (LAC+USC) Medical Center. She indicated that the Academy would be constructed on land obtained from the county via a 50-year lease. The project will be a collaborative partnership with the Worker Education & Resource Center (WERC), a non-profit organization that administers the Los Angeles Health Care Workforce Development Program for the County Department of Health Services. She indicated that 15 million dollars have been allocated from Measure J Bond money for the Health Careers Educational Academy.

Trustee Field inquired as to who is going to staff the Health Careers Educational Academy.

Mr. Marvin Martinez responded that the LACCD is going to identify a number of career pathways in the Allied Health areas. Some of these programs already exist in the LACCD and will be relocated to the new Health Careers Educational Academy along with new Allied Health programs. He indicated that additional funds will be sought from the grant opportunities provided by the Federal Stimulus dollars.

Trustee Pearlman inquired as to who is going to administer the program.

Mr. Martinez indicated that one of the nine-colleges, or the District Office, will administer the Health Careers Educational Academy. Discussions are on-going; a decision has not been made.

Owner Controller Insurance Program (OCIP)

T102 Update

Mr. Eisenberg introduced Mr. George Beveridge, Build—LACCD.

Mr. Beveridge gave a PowerPoint presentation and discussed a nano-technology coating product for building surfaces which is water-based, non-toxic, EPA and FDA approved. He indicated that funding has been allocated from Measure J which will save the LACCD funds due to the reduction by more than two thirds of the organic compounds that accumulate daily on regular building finishes. He stated that this technology has been utilized to great success in Japan. He produced visual representations to illustrate the efficiency of this coating.
